PREFACE

From a humble beginning in 2001, the Patrician College has completed successfully thirteen years of its journey towards Academic pursuits and now is taking the march forward towards achieving Academic excellence. As the next step the Institution is in the process of obtaining accreditation and towards this the College has initiated the process of preparing the Self Study Report. A steering committee was constituted with all Heads of the Departments and senior Faculty members. The committee has worked tirelessly to prepare an exhaustive report. The Self study report is the outcome of series of deliberation with the members of the management, Faculty, students, Alumni and other stakeholders.

The preparation of the SSR has been educative and enriching, providing the management and faculty the opportunity for in-depth introspection into the overall performance of the College. The Study has enabled the institution to identify strengths, gaps, challenges and opportunities and work towards strengthening the existing practices and address the gaps in the journey towards excellence.

On this occasion it is appropriate to acknowledge the contribution made by the Management and faculty in the cause of educating thousands of students who received quality education at the Institution and who are doing extremely well in their field of specialization. They stand witness to their Alma Mater and are contributing to the development of the society through education and values they have imbibed from the Institution. The Institution is gratified to have transformed the lives of first generation learners, the economically and socially weaker groups and to have built human resource that will make a difference for themselves and society.

We convey our heartfelt thanks to the Management, the steering committee and faculty members, students and all stakeholders for their valuable time and inputs to prepare the Self Study Report.

We feel extremely privileged to submit this Self Study Report to the National Accreditation and Assessment Council (NAAC). We are sure that our sincere efforts would yield desired results and the outcome would further inspire us to continue our service to the student community.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Patrician College of Arts and Science established in 2001 is a Christian co-educational self financing institution affiliated to the University of Madras. It was instituted by the Brothers of St. Patrick, a congregation established by Bishop Daniel Delany in 1808 in Ireland. Patrician mission to India was in 1875 by 3 Irish brothers, Ignatius, Paul and Finton who began by caring for the destitute and orphan boys of the Archdiocese of Madras. Today there are 25 Patrician communities in India who serve the needy and ignite young minds by educating them and thus live by their motto “For God and country, we give our lives and service.”

With an exuberant spirit that reflects their service in the field of education, the Patrician Brothers promote opportunities for youth from different social backgrounds to excel in their academic pursuits. With their strong skills of leadership and governance, the congregation has established schools and Colleges all over the world providing a supportive environment in catering to the education needs of the students. The vicinity of the College houses three renowned institutions – St. Patrick’s AI Higher Secondary School (1875), St Michael’s Academy (1953) and St. Patrick’s ICSE School (2004). ### 2.3.3 How is learning made more student-centric?

Student Centric Learning

The management of the College provides various support structures and systems to inculcate skill based learning in the students. In addition to the classroom inputs, the teachers use a wide of range of methodologies from conventional to modern to impart individual and group learning. Methodologies such as seminars, group discussion, role-play, research group projects, case studies, industrial visits and hands on training, technology based learning, project work, field visits, summer placement, workshops, entrepreneurship bazaar and technical exhibitions are effectively organized.

In order to promote collaborative learning, students are assigned various group projects. The students are grouped and assigned the responsibility to identify projects, to plan, to mobilize resource and execute the plan. Through these stages, the students learn many administrative, organizational, decision making and problem solving skills. For example, the Department of Business Administration has involved the students in a group project to understand the problems associated with food safety. The group of 10 students learnt to execute the project and the outcome was the students learned values of co-operation, collaboration, team work and healthy competition.

The faculty members also promote the experiential and individual learning of students through adopting innovative methodologies. ### Case study of an alumna turned teacher in Patrician College

The best way to look at the effectiveness of student support and progression will be the experiential process of a case study

Patrician College has been an institution that empowers students right from its inception in 2001. The case taken up is that of a first batch student, Mr. Daniel Chalke.

Daniel chose Patrician College to undertake his higher studies and opted for BCA degree. During his study period at Patrician College, Daniel was a bright student. This talent was recognized by his class teacher and he was given the responsibility of Class representative. This position of responsibility created further sense of accountability and achievement in the student that he was able to perform even better in his University examinations and gain good grades in them.

The exposure to cultural activities also brought out hidden talents in him and he soon gained much recognition in the college as a good performer in the arts. Every talent of his was identified by his teachers and opportunities were given to him to exhibit his talent within and outside the college in various academic and extracurricular competitions. He was also a student compere for various programmes in the college and this role developed his stage and communication skills to a higher level .

In his final year, Daniel's development paid off and he was nominated as the Secretary of the Department of Computer Applications Association, Technovision. He displayed many organizational and presentational skills in this capacity which developed his skill to enterprise well. He was also selected as President of the Rotaract Club and during his leadership various initiatives like a community based learning project to enhance child literacy of the neighbourhood children of Kotturpuram were a huge success.

Armed with all these skills and once again with a good final grade, Daniel's confidence was boosted to such an extent that he got the First Rank in the state for the TANCET exam and was enabled to pursue his Post Graduation degree in College of Engineering, Anna University. He completed his MBA in the year 2006.

Recognizing the development given to him at Patrician, Daniel decided to take up a career of teaching and came back in 2008 to serve the institution which had made him the man that he had become.

He now teaches in the Department of Business Administration in the position of Assistant Professor. He continues to be a part of the enabling atmosphere of Patrician by conducting the college choir and inspiring young people to overcome their inhibitions and inferiority complexes using the talent of music and singing.

The pass percentage of these students is more than 90% as can be evidenced from the following description.

Achievements of first generation learners:

R. Arockiaraj Dominic, batch of 2008-11, first generation learner from a poor academic background had secured University rank and is currently working as an executive at the Bank of America, Bangalore.

First generation learner, Jonathan D' Cruz from the second batch of Social Work held the position of Department Secretary who passed out in 2013, was an academic rank holder and is working as an HR in a premier IT firm.

Problems Encountered and Resources required:

- The difficulty of the students to remain encouraged when academic activity needs more effort and their inability to cope with it is a challenge.
- To create a sense of equality before students with greater academic success.
- To bring them out of their cocoon to stand up for what they have decided to pursue.

Though, this practice has created a very strong impact on student community as a whole, still few students are not able to come out of their personal inhibition. The mentors (faculty in charge) work with them on individual basis to understand their needs.

BEST PRACTICE - II

Title of the practice: Leadership Development through Associations and Clubs.

Goal: This practice is aimed at enhancing student's leadership through Association and Clubs.

Objectives:

- To cultivate and nurture the leadership qualities of the students.
- To identify leadership talents and provide opportunities for development.

- To develop problem solving skills and critical thinking.
- To expose students to real day to day life situations and have hands on experience.
- To help them set goals for the benefit of themselves and society.

Context:

There is an abundance of leadership potential among the youth of today. Their energies are diverted into degenerative practices. This is due to the unavailability of channels to capture their energies. The need of the hour is to create avenues and channels whereby the student can focus on his skills and abilities to self development in reaching higher altitudes and engage himself in positive and constructive engagements.

Practice:

Patrician College attempts to provide the right opportunities for channelizing the energies of the youth and creating leaders among them. The College has initiated various forums by which the students can participate in leadership positions. The College sets up a student council where members are nominated by the faculty and elected by the student representatives. The student council consist of Chairperson, Vice Chairperson, Secretary and Treasurer. Leaders are also elected for various clubs and associations. Exemplary students with good academic record are the candidate pool from which the office bearers are chosen. This policy motivates the students to prepare well academically and hone their skills toward social service and other talents throughout their initial years of study so that they may be elected to the student council in the capacity of core council member or association/club officer.

Evidence of Success:

The council leaders, the clubs and associations officers are given opportunities which enable them to formulate action plans for core curricular and extracurricular activities. They work as a team thus learning the values of collaboration, cooperation and conflict management. They get the opportunity for decision making, mobilization of resources and networking through the organization of various programmes under their leadership.

Some of the concrete evidences of leadership training is presented below.

- A first generation learner turned leader, Rashme C Mohan, a 2008-11 batch student who studied B.Com from a poor economic background and the daughter of a paralyzed father was the Consumer Club Secretary in her final year of study is currently a Senior Executive at Maersk Global Services. To top it all, she is currently an executive member of the prestigious member of the Patrician Alumni committee.

- Balaji .E, III B.Com C.S is the present student Director of the Leo Club. He is a first generation learner yet the College has provided opportunities for him to become a capable leader and he is an organizer of many events and also has a first class percentage of 68% in his academic pursuits.
- Jothi Priya, a current third year student of III B.Com CS is the Chess captain and a platform for sports activities has enabled her to become a good leader in managing crisis situations.
- Mr. Joshua Sathyaraj. G.M., a current final year student is a first generation learner who has excelled both in academics and extracurricular activities is currently the Rotaract Club President and a member of the library committee
- S. Mohan Raj of III B.Com has beaten all odds from being a first generation learner to be the President of the Literacy Club and has been taking many initiatives on behalf of his club. His leadership skills have been fine tuned through active participation in club activities in addition to an excellent academic record.
- Shanti. M is the carrom captain of the College currently and has a decent first class percentage in spite of her sports activities and active participations in co-curricular activities The college has helped her to achieve her goals.

Problems Encountered:

- Even though the clubs and associations provides opportunities for leadership development, the college has a long way to go to ensure the participation of all students from the first generation learners and students from economically weaker section.
- The observation of the college is that these students are inhibited to come forward to actively take part in the leadership development programme due to several impeding factors like lack of encouragement from family and external peer groups. Their confidence level is low despite the college handholding and encouraging them to take the first step to enroll themselves in the leadership development programmes.
- New strategies need to be worked out to promote such candidates with additional inputs that will enable them to make use of every opportunity that is provided by the college.

- Lack of motivation among students.

Opportunities:

- The students are given opportunities to voice their thoughts through debates, speeches and poems on occasions like Republic day, Independence day, Gandhi Jayanti etc.
- The college library is a real asset to the non Hindi speaking students in terms of reference and guidance.
- Remedial classes for slow-learners and those who have missed their lectures.

- One year of learning French is not sufficient for students who are really interested in pursuing a career in French like the Commerce and Management Departments who will need the usage of language in their future assignments.
- Though students practice the language well they do not have an opportunity other than the college campus to communicate in this language.

Opportunities:

- More scope to become an interpreter or a translator.
